Old Football Rivals to Clash Tomorrow

Student Union Building Will Definitely Be Open By Friday, November 22

New Center of Campus Activities Is to Be Completely Ready for Occupancy Day Preceding Game With Oregon State College

November 22, the day preceding the Oregon State game, the Grizzlies' second game in home territory, has been definitely set as the opening date of the new $300,000 Student Union building, Professor Ernest Atkinson, chairman of the Student Union faculty-student-alumni committee, announced late this week. It is expected that all furnishings and equipment will be installed by that time in readiness for the dedication ceremonies. The Associated Students bookstore and soda fountain, located on the ground floor of the building will also open at that time, Morris McCollum, manager, said yesterday.

The committee also announced that three new members, to be selected from the students, will also be appointed. In case of any controversy in the administration of the building, the students will have a majority. Central board, headed by James Meyers, A. S. U. M. president, will meet with the Student Union committee to decide how the new members will be appointed. When finally selected, the board will consist of five students, three faculty members and one alumnus.

Complete plans for the dedication ceremonies will be announced the week following the Washington State game. The committee will extend all possible efforts to make this program an outstanding event in the history of the state university.

New Students Salute Coach At SOS Rally

Cheering Section Organized For Annual Butte Game; Players Introduced

As the last strains of "College Chums" drifted over the Montana campus at 8 o'clock last night, and the crowded lawn in front of Main hall slowly and silently emptied, the second SOS of the year, and one of the most successful of all time, came to a close.

The traditional gathering was opened by James Meyers, A. S. U. M. president, who spoke briefly on the football team and then called on John Sullivan, captain of the 1935 Grizzlies, to introduce the team.

Head Coach Douglas Fessenden was called to the Main hall steps to make his first appearance before the student body this year, and his first in any time to the freshmen students. "I am fortunate in being here," he said. "I like Montana players and Montana students. I am going to be very, very happy here."

Ray Whitcomb, Yell King; Nick Mariana and Jack Hughes led the crowd in a practice singing and yelling session, so that a good showing may be made during the parade in Butte tomorrow.

Clark Collaborates On Latin Textbook

Connecticut School Accepts Volume For Language Department

"Graded Readings in Latin," a book written by W. P. Clark of the state university foreign language department, and Miss Sylvia Johnson of Lewistown, graduate of the state university, has been printed in mimeograph form and has received out of state recognition.

The St. Luke's school, New Canaan, Connecticut, has adopted the book and has placed an order with Mr. Clark. This book is the one which is used in the Latin department of that institution.

Gala Ceremonies Are Planned for Opening Of Student Union Building on November 22

The doors will be thrown open to the new recreational center of the campus on November 22, the committee making the arrangements has announced. Built and furnished at a cost of $300,000, the structure is the largest building on the campus and represents the result of years of planning. This will be the scene of student plays, rallies and much of the campus' social life.

Henrikson Makes Plans for Debate

Students Entering Aber Day Contest Must Do So This Fall

Professor E. H. Henrikson asks that all persons interested in debate or oratory turn out Tuesday at 4:30 o'clock in library 102.

This year's debate will be on somewhat a different plan from that followed last year. Several topics are planned instead of one and as a result a larger turnout is expected. Also tentative plans call for trips into communities to debate before various organizations.

Professor Henrikson said that no priority would be given upperclass students. He especially wishes freshmen to be at the meeting.

In order to enter the Aber day oratorical contest students must enter sometime during fall quarter. There is some possibility of a peace oratorical contest.

Last year's state oratorical contest was won by William Shallenberger.

Tanan-of-Spur Elects E. Lux New President

Jean Fritz Is Vice-President Of Sophomore Honorary Organization

Eleanor Lux, Great Falls, was elected president of Tanan-of-Spur for the coming year at the first regular meeting of Spur actives and pledges held yesterday afternoon at North hall. Other officers chosen were Jean Fritz, Missoula, vice-president; Dorothy Markus, Whitefish, secretary; Montana Nimbar, Miles City, treasurer; Nan Shoemaker, Missoula, editor, and June Blankenhorn, Great Falls, representative to executive board of the Associated Women students.

Tanan-of-Spur is an honorary organization for sophomore women. Scholarship, personality and activities are the basis of choice when the new members are selected each spring. It is the duty of these leaders selected from the last freshman class to promote school spirit and enthusiasm in college functions.

Pamela Fergus, Armells, outgoing president, took charge of the first meeting and distributed outlines of the chapter constitution and by-laws. She said that the new Spur outfit will be uniform; measurements were taken for sweaters, which are expected to arrive before the date of initiation, sometime toward the end of fall quarter.

The plan of policing the university library last year, will be carried out again. Students will be asked to throw cigarette butts, papers and miscellaneous trash in the waste baskets. Benches in the downstairs library hall were placed there for sitting, and the pillars are not to be used for lounging. New pledges were urged to see that both old and new students refrain from cutting corners on the campus and heed the "Keep Off the Grass" signs.

"Eleanor Lux is well qualified for the responsible position as Spur president," Miss Fergus said. "The old Spurs wish her luck and success in the coming year."

Health Service Reports Measles, Colds Causes of Most Visits to Office Last Year

Nearly nine thousand visits were made to the health service by students during the school year 1934-35, a report filed by Mrs. A. F. LeClaire, director of the service, shows.

Colds and minor illnesses brought the greatest number of students to the office with 7,746 receiving treatment under this heading.

In the contagious diseases class, measles proved to be the No. 1 enemy with 246 cases reported. Mumps took a heavy toll to the tune of 24 cases

Grizzly Rooters To Follow Band In Pep Parade

Procession to Start at 11:45 o'clock From Finlen Hotel and Proceed to "Y"

State University football spirit will show its worth at the annual parade preceding the Grizzly-Bobcat game in Butte tomorrow. Led by the Grizzly band, students and Montana rooters will march from the Finlen hotel on the corner of Broadway and Wyoming, one block west to Main, south on Main one block and west on Park to the "Y" where the football team and the band will have its headquarters.

Joimae Pollock, in charge of the parade, has arranged for a police escort to clear the traffic, and for street cars to take the students and the band to the Finlen hotel. The first street car in the line will be reserved for the band and it is asked that students remain on the following cars in order that the band may arrive ahead of the student body so as to start the parade on time. Montana supporters will leave the Finlen at 11:45 and the parade will be over by 12:15. The yell leaders, Ray Whitcomb, Nick Mariana and Jack Hughes, will ride on the truck following the band and ahead of the students. All students are requested to stay out of cars and follow the band on foot so as to produce effective yelling and singing.

Members of the band making the trip are: Cornets: Olaf Bredeson, Ted Walker, Henry Grant, Jack Franke, Harlan Hartung, Phil Garlington, Phil Wiseman, Bob Easterly, Herb Pierce; clarinets: John Warden, Bob Ruehrwein, Cliff Haugland, Sam Smith, James Hoppe, Tom Newnes, Jack Muir, Tom Hartwig; piccolo: Harold Wheat; trombones: Maro Butchart, Harry Lee, Cliff Cyr, Russell Peterson; basses: Byron Lee, Harrison Kelum, Henry Jackson, Frank Tyro; baritone: Don Lynch, Foster Polleys; horns: Leonard Weisman; drums: Joe Burns, LeRoy Seymour, Bob Choate and Harold Schechter. Stanley Tel, director, and Les Smith, associate director, will also make the trip.

Will Lead Montana's Warriors Against foe

JOHN SULLIVAN guard

Captain John Sullivan, scrappy, hard-hitting guard, will pilot Montana's "New Deal" football team in its annual clash with the state college Bobcats at Clark's park in Butte tomorrow afternoon. Playing his last season with the Grizzlies and his last game against the traditional enemy, the 171-pound Butte bomber is expected to see action during most of the game.

Grizzlies Meet Bobcats' Finest On Butte Grid

Convocation and SOS Spur Fessenden and Squad On to Victory

Cheered by a tumultuous convocation this morning and thrilled by an enthusiastic SOS last night, Montana's Grizzlies leave early tomorrow for their thirty-fifth clash with Montana State college's Bobcats. One more victory will net the Grizzlies their twenty-third triumph in 38 years of competition with their oldest rivals and will give the university another undisputed state championship.

A large delegation from the Butte Chamber of Commerce provided 30 minutes of varied entertainment this morning as it successfully aroused student enthusiasm for the trek to Butte tomorrow. Hundreds of students and Missoulians are expected to journey by car and by special train to view the game with the Bobcats, now flushed with a victory over their ancient Brigham Young foes last Saturday.

Butte Group Entertains

This morning's convocation, the first of several that have been planned for the quarter, was given over to the program of the Butte delegation, which featured yells, songs, speeches and music, and a short talk by President James Meyers of the A. S. U. M. Yell King Ray Whitcomb and Yell Leader Nick Mariana led the students in university songs and yells. Coach Doug Fessenden spoke.

Train Leaves at 8:30

Tomorrow a large group of students will go to Butte by way of the special train which leaves the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific depot at 8:30 o'clock. The train will arrive at Butte at approximately 11:30 o'clock. The university band will lead a large parade of students from the depot to the Finlen hotel and then down Broadway. A similar parade of Bobcats and their supporters is also planned.

The game will start at 2 o'clock and arrangements have been made for an exchange of courtesy yells as the game starts. The Montana yell kings will lead the Bozeman delegation in yells and the Bobcat cheer leaders will take temporary charge of the Grizzly rooters.

Montana's delegation will be seated on the entire east side of the bleachers.

Montana's Grizzlies go to Butte with the comforting feeling that they held the University of Southern California's Trojans to a 9-0 victory in a game which observers called one of the hardest fought of the year. Coach Doug Fessenden, successor to Bunny Oakes, is riding the crest of a great popularity wave with his squad, the students and alumni. Eight Trojans went to the hospital to be treated for minor hurts after the Grizzly game last Saturday.

Cats Are Dangerous

The Bobcats head Butteward with a surprise 7-0 victory over Brigham Young university, their greatest achievement in several years. The Utah institution is sporting one of its most powerful teams, while sports writers say that the Bobcat team is big and powerful—the best there in many years.

The special train will leave Butte at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

Make It a Double New Deal!

A mighty Trojan horde found to its astonishment last Saturday that the Montana Grizzly was no longer a meek Bruin overawed by superior odds, but a raging Tartar intent upon victory. Coach Douglas Fessenden convincingly demonstrated to the local doubting Thomases that his promised New Deal for Montana athletics was no idle sales talk but the real McCoy. The Montana Kaimin wishes to express its heartiest congratulations to Coach Doug and the scrappiest Grizzly eleven ever to don the Copper, Silver and Gold.

Too long have Montana's coaches, players and football followers entered into each season's griddon warfare with the attitude "we can't win but we'll lose gracefully." That such an inferiority complex was shared by all concerned with the Grizzly's football success has been all too evident in past years, but Saturday's gallant battle against an institution which has for years been noted for tremendous squads and unlimited material, indicated the worm has turned. Doug's boys went into the Southern California game from the outset with the will to win and a stubborn refusal to yield to superior odds. Time after time the giant men of Troy were thrown back from the Grizzly touchdown stronghold and despite Head Man Jones' insertion of the steady stream of fresh and unfatigued players into the game, Doug's iron men were not to be quelled. It was a courageous fight that no amount of editorial commendation can begin to do adequate credit.

The New Deal in Montana fighting spirit was gotten underway last Saturday at the Los Angeles Coliseum and with the wholehearted cooperation of every loyal Grizzly supporter that gallant stand against overwhelming odds will not have been in vain. Coach Fessenden and his team face as difficult a schedule as any Montana eleven has ever confronted and the knowledge that each of us is backing the Grizzlies until the conclusion of the 1935 season, will be of moral assistance to the squad that cannot be overestimated. Appeals to the student body to back the Grizzlies are made each year and are complied with half heartedly. It is the earnest hope and belief of the Kaimin that a New Deal in school spirit will be instituted as well which will equal the will-to-win attitude with which Doug has imbued his football warriors.

Kappa Delta Sorority National Inspector States Greek Groups Are Going Ahead

"All fraternities and sororities are paying more attention to scholarship," stated Miss Faith Kuter of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, national inspector of Kappa Delta sorority, while visiting the local chapter of the group. She further asserted that the tendency in colleges today was toward seriousness and character development.

Fraternities and sororities, Miss Kuter continued, are stronger than ever. The new experimental steps that are being taken indicate this firm foundation. As an example she cited the quota system, which permits the group only a certain number of pledges. This has its advantages and disadvantages—its supporters and opponents. This practice is of course in its experimental stages as yet, but thus far it has not proven wholly successful. "In actual practice," said Miss Kuter, "the quota system just doesn't seem to work out. It has been abandoned in a great many places where it has been tried." This, she added, is only one of the many expermental steps which fraternities and sororities are taking at the present time.

Concerning Montana, which Miss Kuter is now visiting for the third time, she stated that the worst is over. "Montana, not only in the sorority field but in the field of business, has held on to the depression as long as any state in the union. Now even here things seem to be lifting and everything, I am convinced, is on the road to improvement."

The national inspector arrived on Tuesday from North Dakota State college at Fargo, where she visited during rush week. She will remain here until Sunday. She is planning to attend the National Pan-Hellenic congress at Edgewater college, Mississippi, December 4-7.

In the near future Pan-Hellenic council will meet to make over and write new rules for rushing and rush week in order to avoid the difficulties which were met last rush week.

Athletic Board Plans Banquet For Fessenden

Dinner to Honor Grizzly Coach Will Be Held October 11

Kirk Badgley, athletic manager, announces plans for an athletic board banquet honoring Head Coach Douglas A. Fessenden, to be held Friday evening, October 11, at 7 o'clock. The hall has as yet not been chosen but will be announced early next week.

The dinner, which it is hoped will be made an annual affair, will introduce the new Grizzly coach to Montana football fans. Held on the eve of the Washington State game, Coach Fessenden's first game in home territory, guests will have an opportunity to hear and exchange opinions on the Montana football setup.

Special invitations are being sent to Chambers of Commerce throughout the state and a concentrated effort is being made to arrange for the attendance of state officials and out of town guests. Invitations will also be extended to representatives of other Pacific Coast conference teams. University students are urged to attend.

Speakers at the banquet are now being arranged for and the entire program will be announced as soon as plans are completed. Tickets may be purchased at the business office at the state university. All persons wishing to attend are urged to call for reservations.

LOUIS HARTSELL

The moth balls have been shaken out of the Grizzly's shaggy skin, and red blood in place of embalming fluid is running through his veins. Pictured above are four of the men expected by university fans to give the state college Bobcats a stormy afternoon on the hard-packed field of Clark's park in Butte tomorrow. Right (above) is Bob Cosgrove, driving tackle from Los Angeles, who is playing his second season. Hank Blastic needs no introduction to the rosters. Recipient of all-American honorable mention in 1933, he will face the Bobcats for the last time tomorrow, and in company with his fellow backfield mates, Milton Popovich, the Butte bullet, and Paul Szakach, the Chicago pile-driver, is expected to cause plenty of trouble. Louis Hartsell, veteran Grizzly wingman, will see a lot of action tomorrow and is expected to be on hand when the college attack is the hottest. Cliff Olson will probably get the call for heavy duty in the backfield.

:-: Sporty Vents :-:

Montana's offense must click against the Bobcats to give the team the inspiration to carry through against the overwhelming odds on the suicide schedule. The Bozemanites have one of their strongest teams in years. To win the Grizzlies will have to play heads up ball all through the contest.

The Bobcats are coming to Butte fully expecting to return victorious. They have fair basis for their assumptions with a fast team that is a constant threat at all times with a dazzling aerial attack. Against Brigham Young the Cats scored once through the air and just missed another when an end dropped a perfect pass over the goal line.

With Bud Whittinghill on the sidelines for the next few games, Paul Szakach has moved up to his ball handling position and Rod Welsh, a newcomer, has moved to "Sash's" tailback post.

Trojan game with half an idea that they were physically sound, of the masculine sex, knew a football from an orange, and had used good judgment in the choice of their coach. At a hot spot in the desert, however, a Los Angeles paper was received on the train disproving all above statements and inserting a few choice slams written by one Maxwell Stiles, who apparently knows as much about football as the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce knows about Montana. In his article he stated that Montana university never has or never will produce enough football players to erase the welcome from their proverbial doormat in the conference standings.

All we hope is that Mr. Stiles took enough time off from his ping pong table to go out to the Coliseum and witness the "weak sisters" of the conference dish out a little of the beating that they were so good-naturedly supposed to absorb.

Picking winners in any kind of a sport is a task, but here are a few choices for Saturday: Washington State over Willamette; Idaho over Gonzaga; Santa Clara over Washington; U. C. L. A. over Oregon State; Oregon over Utah; Stanford over San Francisco; U. S. C. over College of Pacific; St. Marys over California, and Montana over Montana State.

Greeks' Football Combat to Open Sports Program

Schedule Is Now Being Prepared By Harry Adams, Director Of Intramurals

Little opportunity is given the Greeks to prepare for the strenuous minor sports program which will be launched soon under the direction of minor sports director, Harry Adams.

The intramural season opens with a full schedule of touch-football games to be played between the Greeks and Independents as soon as the schedule is arranged and the field marked. In order that the sports calendar may be cleared early in preparation for the swimming meets which occupy the latter half of the fall quarter, all groups are urged to organize their teams and hold practice sessions as soon as possible.

Phi Delta Theta will be back on the football field to defend its title against all comers and Alpha Tau Omega will be entering the fray with the idea of revenge for an inglorious string of beatings taken last year. With the returning of the Kappa Sigma fraternity to activity on the campus, another team is expected in the league from the ranks of the Greeks while the Barbs are better organized this year and will undoubtedly have a team in the league after missing touch football for a year.

Touch football each year arouses a great deal of interest both among participants and observers. Each afternoon the campus becomes generally deserted except for the crowds which gather north of the library to cheer on their fraternity brothers and to scout the tactics of future foes on the field.

Newman club, organization of Catholic university students, has made tentative plans for holding the first meeting of the quarter Sunday, October 13, in the basement of St. Anthony's church, following 9 o'clock mass. No definite plans have been made for this meeting, it was stated by Leo Valiton, president of Newman club.

Frosh Women Are Welcomed At W.A.A. Meet

Hankins and Bartley Elected To Fill Vacancies In Group

Freshmen women of the university were welcomed into Women's Athletic association Wednesday afternoon by Virginia Bode, president of the group, when a general meeting was held in the women's gymnasium. Elections were also held at the meeting to fill vacancies in office left by Betty Gray Sayatovich and Marjorie Miles. Edith Hankins was elected vice-president and Katherine Bartley, secretary.

After the officers were introduced to the freshmen, the intramural athletic program was explained. Hockey, swimming and riflery will be included on this program.

Inter-sorority meets which will be held this year in basketball, swimming, riflery and tennis, were discussed. A cup will be awarded to the sorority winning the highest number of points in the meets. Local Forestry School Ranked In High Group

American Foresters' Society Makes Detailed Study Of Institutions

As a result of a survey of all leading forestry schools in the United States made by the Society of American Foresters, the forestry school of the Montana university was placed in the upper third group of accredited institutions.

The Society of American Foresters, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., made a detailed study of all schools offering forestry training and issued a grading of the schools examined.

Grading was made on the basis of equipment, reputation and qualification of instructors, success of graduated students, and courses of instruction given.

The forestry school of the state university was the only school of a comparatively small size to be awarded a rating in the upper third of the group, the next smallest university having a total enrollment of more than 6,000 students.

NYA to Provide Work for Many

The Deans may award some students up to $20 of work a month, however. More than five hundred applications were received and considered by Deans J. E. Miller, R. H. Jesse and Mary Elrod Ferguson.

NYA Similar to FERA
The type of work done under the NYA will be exactly the same as that done under the FERA last year. The state university has received nearly six hundred dollars more this year to give to student workers. The present figure of $2,925 each month is based on $15 a month pay for 12 per cent of the students enrolled October 1, 1934.

Students who are notified of work today will in most cases keep that work throughout the quarter. Minor adjustments may be made later.

Students to Be Notified
Students will be informed either by mail or by telephone of the Deans' action, Meloy said. Offices of the NYA will be located in the lower floor of Main hall. Formerly the student relief headquarters were located in the reception room outside of the President's office.

All W. A. A. members and others who are interested, are invited to attend the first outing which will be on October 17.

Thelma Buck, individual sports manager, explained the program in the individual sports department for this year. Included under this department are such sports as ping pong, horse shoe, badminton, volley ball, tumbling and outing club.

Approval Given For New Plan Of Assemblies

Convocation Friday to Start System; Five Meetings Quarter Listed

More and better convocations will be held this year upon completion of plans of the schedule committee headed by Dr. A. S. Merrill. Approval of the plan has been secured, with Dean R. C. Line's public exercises committee working with the schedule committee. Acting President F. C. Scheuch has also given his approval. No classes will be cut when convocations are held, but all of the morning classes will be shortened to 33 minutes.

Classes, on the mornings of convocation days, will be shortened from 53 to 38 minutes, according to the following schedule: 8:07 to 8:45 o'clock, first period; 8:45 to 8:52 o'clock, intermission; 8:52 to 9:30 o'clock, second period; 9:30 to 9:37 o'clock, intermission; 9:37 to 10:15 o'clock, third period; 10:15 to 10:22 o'clock, intermission; 10:22 to 11:00 o'clock, fourth period.

The plan was tried out for the first time this morning.

According to the plan, which calls for five convocations a quarter, two or three football meetings will be held and several others featuring outside speakers will be scheduled for presentation at 11 o'clock on Friday mornings.

The reason for the small number of convocations during the past year has been attributed to the unwillingness of faculty members to break their class schedules by excusing their 11 o'clock classes.
